

CHAIR'S WELCOME

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Ladbrokes Friday Night Lights for our Lunar New Year meeting as we celebrate the Year of the Snake.

The Moonee Valley Racing Club is proud to have partnered with the Australian Chinese Jockey Club over the past decade to deliver a vibrant and culturally rich event that adds something special to our summer racing calendar.

I would also like to congratulate ACJC Chair Teresa Poon on her recent recognition as the Magic Millions Victoria Racing Woman of the Year—a well-deserved acknowledgment of her contributions to the racing industry.

Tonight's program includes a Lion Dance, Chinese Drummers, K-Pop performances, and a visit from The Funky Farm. It is accompanied by an exciting racing card headlined by the 888-metre sprint. We are thrilled to have Jamie Pi on course to call the race in Mandarin.

Thank you for joining us to celebrate Lunar New Year. Enjoy the evening, and we look forward to seeing you back at The Valley next Friday night.

JAMIE PI BACK TO THE VALLEY TO CALL THE ACJC 888 SPRINT

By Ben Caluzzi

Sports broadcaster and avid racing fan Jamie Pi will make his return to The Valley this Friday for Lunar New Year racing, where he will call the ACJC 888 Sprint run over the specialist distance of 888 metres, the lucky number of the Chinese community.

Jamie has been calling on Lunar New Year night since 2017, after answering a Twitter post by the Club that explored an opportunity for a race caller to call a race in Mandarin on the night.

"They put out an ad on Twitter 7 or 8 years ago looking for a mandarin caller, and I put my name down after a few people tagged me and suggested I had a look." Pi told us.

"I then went in and had a bit of an audition, I'm not sure how many people auditioned, but I was lucky enough to get the job.

"It was a little bit daunting. I remember Alastair (Dwyer) just showed me a race, and I didn't know the result, and he just said see how you go with that. I think he wanted to see the tempo and the gusto in my voice, and whether I was up to scratch. It all went well which was good."

Born in China, Pi made his move to Australia with his parents in 1993 as a thirteen-year-old and has been fully bilingual from the age of fifteen. His knowledge and experience in the Australian sports industry also stems from his teenage years, and he has since qualified to become an accredited AFL player agent.

"I've had a lot to do with AFL and football, and the expansion of the game into the Chinese community.

"It would have started in '06 or '07, and I was then involved in the first broadcast of an AFL game in China, where I called the 2010 clash between Brisbane and Melbourne in Mandarin.

"I also called Rugby 7s in matches played all around the world. Unfortunately, I wasn't able to travel for that gig, and did all these matches remotely, but it worked in well with my study."

Pi will call the ACJC 888 Sprint on Friday night, scheduled as Race 5 on the program, and he explained to us his preference to call the saddle cloth numbers during the run, rather than the horse names themselves.

"The horse names don't really make much sense to the Chinese punters, which is the audience I'm speaking to when I'm calling.

"The reasoning for that is the horse names aren't translated. All your form guides and betting slips are still in English, so for me to just mumble through the English names really doesn't give you much.

"The Asian racing scene, a lot of importance is placed on the numbers. It's also a little bit easier to rumble off as well, given it's such a short race, and as they say, it's all in the delivery."

All of Pi's current commentary gigs are called in Mandarin, but he is also open to opportunities in English if they arise.

STEWARDS REPORT

Race 1 Evergreen Turf Plate 1000M

Mclovin	Slow to begin. Raced keenly in the early stages. Approaching the 600m was steadied. Held up rounding the home turn and for some distance approaching and passing the 100m raced in restricted room. When questioned rider reported that in hindsight on straightening he should have attempted to improve to the outside of flovediamonds, however at that stage he felt that runner was shifting out, and therefore he elected to steady inwards towards the rail. He added that although he raced in crowded room near the 100m, he did not feel his decision had any significant impact. SEYM 16/01/2025

RACE ANALYSIS

Liked the recent jump out of ALWAYS ENUFF who had the shades on when matching motors with last start G3 winner Isthmus. Blinkers first time for race day here. BOX OFFICE was a class above at Cranbourne and third that race was a subsequent winner. TADGH has big upside.

RACE ANALYSIS

MISS TORONADO is a speedy filly that will be hard to catch if she can hold the rail from barrier one. SPEIR will be on her hammer and the three kilo claim could prove crucial. If they go too hard out in front look for EL PIPE DE ORO to chime in late.

RACE ANALYSIS

ECCEDERE broke her maiden nicely last start and can take the next step. ESKIMO surprisingly doesn't like being ridden cold and should roll forward from the good draw. TOMBA will appreciate the drop back in grade and is in the mix.

Held off rivals for a soft win at Cranbourne. Led into the straight, left nothing out there for game sixth Manfred G3. Like chances back to this level. Has been consistent in good form races. Can use his early speed to get across.
